

NEW TRIER NEIGHBORS

Welcome to New Trier Neighbors!

New Trier Neighbors is a community organization founded by residents of New Trier Township to promote the ideas of common sense, free enterprise, and the Golden Rule.

Specifically
WE BELIEVE IN:

High quality, academically rigorous schools that celebrate intellectual diversity

An entrepreneurial small business climate that creates vibrant communities and values individuals and human capacity

Civil discourse, with honest and open debate among all our neighbors

Common-sense
local government and management of resources

We also seek to build connections with underserved communities to help our fellow neighbors across Chicagoland develop and thrive.

We are a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that seeks to be a voice of independent thought and reason on issues related to the New Trier Township area and are staffed by volunteers.

For our latest news and events or to sign up for our newsletter, please visit newtrierneighbors.org.

See back side for specifics on what we do!

DONATE NOW!

New Trier Neighbors is tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

OUR ACTIVITIES INCLUDE:

Implemented sustained issue campaigns to inform and educate the public on the school tax levy process and ongoing issues with politicized school curricula and policies.

Initiated and helped pass a first-of-its-kind high school version of a “Chicago Principles Statement” at New Trier High School to promote viewpoint and intellectual diversity.

Hosted evening events with well-known commentators, writers and public intellectuals such as:

- Stephen Moore (New Trier alum)
 - Mona Charen (author)
 - John Kass (Chicago Tribune columnist)
 - Deidre McCloskey (UIC)
 - Dorian Abbot (University of Chicago)
 - Joshua Mitchell (Georgetown University)
 - Jason Hill (DePaul University)
 - Jeremy Adams (author of Hollowed Out)
 - Dan Proft (AM 560 host)
 - Ted Dabrowski (Wirepoints)
 - Nicole Neily (Parents Defending Education)
 - Bob Muzikowski (Chicago Hope Academy) and others attended by hundreds of individuals, including local village trustees and school board members.
- Online programs have included:
- Ian Rowe (Vertex Partnership Academies and AEI)
 - Barry Malkin (Carnegie Learning)
 - Bonnie Kerrigan Snyder (author of Undoctrinate)

Held a screening and discussion of the critically acclaimed “How Jack Became Black” at New Trier High School, promoting diversity in racial discussions and attended by 300 individuals.

Exposed race-based hiring practices and teacher segregation at an Evanston public school. Related media coverage appeared in The Wall Street Journal, National Review, and Crain’s Chicago Business.

Published bi-weekly newsletters that keep North Shore residents up to date. Topics include: politicized “gun walkouts,” sexuality surveys in schools, school pronoun policies and other “must-know” information that you won’t find anywhere else.

Raised money to send children from Chicago’s South Side Woodlawn neighborhood to attend summer camp for the first time. Now partnering with the Gamechangers Foundation to raise money for issuing grants to promising students from Chicago’s underserved neighborhoods for post-secondary education.